Report on Charitable Gaming and Access to Gaming Revenue 1999/00 Fiscal Year

October 2000

BRITISH COLUMBIA
British Columbia
Gaming Commission

101-00522/

The British Columbia Gaming Commission

Pursuant to the Lottery Act, as amended by the Miscellaneous Statutes Amendment Act No. 3, 1998, the British Columbia Gaming Commission is solely responsible for the licensing of charitable organizations, bingo associations, social occasion casinos, charitable ticket raffles and gaming at fairs and exhibitions. The commission also awards direct charitable access to gaming revenue to eligible community-based charitable and religious organizations. The commission applies explicit criteria in deciding which groups are eligible for access to charitable gaming revenue, the dollar amount of access, and whether charitable licensees and/or direct charitable access recipients are using gaming revenue for purposes approved by the commission in an accountable manner.

Access to charitable gaming revenue is through either licensed charitable gaming or the direct charitable access program. Through the direct access program, organizations directly receive gaming revenue from a trust fund without conducting a licensed gaming event. The commission also licenses fairs and exhibitions to conduct gaming events under sections 207(1)(c) and (d) of the Criminal Code of Canada.

The commission audits licensed organizations and direct access recipients to ensure that gaming proceeds are used for allowable purposes and managed in an accountable manner. It also inspects gaming events to ensure that they are being conducted in compliance with established procedures.

Eligibility to access gaming revenue

In reviewing each application for access to gaming revenue, the commission considers the charitable purposes, community benefit, accountability and the organization's financial need.

An organization is eligible where:

a) it is operated on a not-for-profit basis and primarily for charitable orreligious purposes and can demonstrate that it has provided programs or services for a minimum of 12 months prior to application;
b) it has a significant volunteer component directly involved in governance of the organization;
c) members of the Board of Directors are elected from the volunteer members of the organization so that management and effective control of the organization and its activities are held by volunteer members of the organization resident in British Columbia;
d) no voting members of the executive or board of directors receive remuneration or other financial benefits for their services to the organization, regardless of the type of service performed;
e) no voting members of the executive or board of directors are in a direct relationship with key senior staff that could be perceived as leading to a conflict, e.g., spouses, business partners;
f) the organization's services, currently delivered, are of significant benefit to its local community;
g) the organization meets the Commission's standards for financial accountability; and,
h) the organization demonstrates a clear separation in governance, funding and use of proceeds from statutorily funded programs.

Eligible Groups

Each organization that accesses gaming revenue is categorized by the commission into one of the following groups.

Assistance to the Disadvantaged, Distressed and Relief of Poverty

Provide programs and services to assist those who are in financial need, distressed or suffering; or, experiencing social disadvantage.

Advancement of Education

Enhance the educational and extracurricular opportunities of a broad cross section of student activities, which are not statutory requirements.

Advancement of Religion

Provide programs and services to assist in the delivery of religious services and programs to the community.

Culture and the Arts

Eligible cultural organizations provide programs and services to assist in the preservation or enhancement of heritage, traditions and cultures; and/or dissemination of knowledge within the community.

Eligible arts organizations provide programs and services to assist in individual fulfillment through scholastic training; advancement of a field of performing, visual or literary arts; or dissemination of knowledge within the community.

Amateur Athletic Sports

Provide programs and services to assist individuals in attaining health or fitness through organized, competitive, physical activity.

Enhancement of Public Safety

Programs and services enhance and support public safety initiatives.

Enhancement of Public/Community Facilities

Programs and services support improvements of public places and maintenance of community non-profit facilities.

Advancement of Public Health in the Community

Support and assist in the provision of public health care and related services in the community.

Conservation of the Environment

Provide programs and services that contribute to the conservation of the environment.

Enhancement of Youth

Support youth programs and services that enhance human development, civic responsibility and pride in the community.

Community Service Organizations

Community service organizations are considered eligible for the sole purpose of donating gaming proceeds to eligible charitable or religious organizations.
